

Asian Elephants are the closest relative to the African Elephant. They are found in the wild in India – but they are often captive – and need to be freed!

